Halloween parade Wednesday, police urge safety measures

By VALERIE EVENDEN

Press-Record Staff Writer

It's that time of year when monstermen, witches and hobgoblins start their seasonal trek around neighborhood haunts and preparations are finished for their appearance in the traditional "Halloween Parade" through downtown Granite City.

This year's parade will take place at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday under the sponsorship of the Granite City Moose Lodge 272. Parade participants are asked to assemble at the City Hall on Niedringhaus Avenue by 7 p.m. Wednesday, where participants will be tagged with a number to permit judges to easily identify winning entries, according to Stan Brown, Moose parade chairman.

Masqueraders will be eligible for cash awards—$10, first place; $6, second and $4, third—in three categories—best dressed, most original and funniest costume. More than 50 consolation prizes also will be given out, Brown said.

The parade route will take the marchers along Niedringhaus to State Street, south on State to Nineteenth Street, west on Nineteenth to Niedringhaus and Cleveland Boulevard, returning to the City Hall for presentation of prizes.

In the event of inclement weather, the costume judging segment will take place beneath the canopied area at First Granite City National Bank.

Members of the judging panel include: Mrs. Boliger of the Tri-City Shrine Club; Earl Baker, sidewalk of the Sixth HAPPY HALLOWEEN, FRIENDS! Ward, Edward Heintz of the National Association of Letter Carriers and Captain Ronald Kerley of the Salvation Army.

The Rolling Nobles of the Shrine Club will be in the parade lineup.

Parents of youthful trick or treaters should make certain their youngsters can be seen while Halloweening, local police authorities warned. They cautioned that costumes made of dark material increases the chances of not being seen by motorists as small tricksters cross streets at night.

Granite City Police Chief Ronald Veizer urged parents to insure their children's safety by making costumes clearly visible, adding white or yellow stripes, polka dots or pieces of reflective tape to their outfits.

A flashlight carried by the child helps him to be spotted more easily and youngsters should be instructed to remove their masks while crossing the street so their vision will not be obstructed, Chief Veizer said.

New equipment at GC Steel

Granite City Steel, now a division of National Steel Corp., is gearing for production of 2½ million tons of steel on its 80-inch hot strip mill in 1974 and 3.6 million tons in 1975, President H. M. "Pete" Love said today.

Construction spending, related to the production objectives, Love said in an interview published in The Mill, the division's publication.

"We have submitted to Pittsburgh a large and detailed capital appropriation schedule to get additional monies to spend in the area of the hot mill—for a fourth slab heating furnace, for example, and the necessary material handling equipment we'll have to put in if we're to handle the large volume of material that is necessary to achieve this 3.6 million-ton level," he related.

Granite City Steel joins Weirton Steel, Great Lakes and Midwest Steel as the fourth steelmaking division of National.

The local firm has been a subsidiary company since its merger with National Steel Corp. in August 1971.

President of the Midwest Steel Division, Love assumed the additional duties of president of Granite City Steel in January 1972.

Discussing plans for expanded steelmaking, Love said, "At least half of the volume of the hot mill will be outside slabs from Great Lakes and Weirton."

"All of Midwest's requirements, for all practical purposes, will be rolled out of slabs from Weirton and Great Lakes. Our own mill will take care of our own sales picture."

"The blast furnace capacity of Weirton, Great Lakes and Granite City would generate the necessary slabs to take care of the commitments for the corporation through the period 1975, 1976, 1977. This means that Granite City has to get up to the level of 5,000 tons of hot metal a day."

President Love said Granite City Steel operations have been integrated into National Steel in financial reporting, appropriation control and assimilation of management goals.

"The intent of the merger was the utilization to the fullest extent possible of Granite City Steel's primary equipment. This involves the blast furnaces, the primary steel and the hot mill."

"We have made significant strides toward achieving the maximum output of these units. This year will be the best we've ever had on the hot mill, but it's still short of its potential."

Love continued, "It's pretty generally conceded, although it may be hard for the citizens of Granite City to appreciate it, that compared to other steel towns Granite City is one of the cleanest installations in the country, if not the world."

"We intend to do whatever is necessary to improve it on a continuing basis."

"Another area in which we've made significant progress is our product yield. Granite City Steel has achieved the best ingot-to-finished product yield in the corporation—and has had that distinction for the past several months."

Asked about new facilities and equipment, President Love said, "Starting at the beginning, we're talking about the completion of the coke oven rebuild this year."

"We will also have both blast furnaces rebuilt within the next two years. A' Furnace will go down for a scheduled relining in 1974 and B' Furnace in 1975. Both will get significant improvements to increase the output and quality of the metal we're making."

"Some of the other major improvements include the money we're spending at Pilot Knob—about $2½ million between the corporation and Hanna Mining—to upgrade the pellet quality."

Love added, "We're going to be bringing in slabs and shipping out hot bands in large volumes—in excess of two million tons a year."

"To do that, we've got to be

Walker confers on jr. college

Illinois Governor Daniel Walker has agreed to intercede with the Illinois Community College Board on behalf of Quad-Cityans hoping to provide community college services.

He told a local delegation last week he will present to the ICCB an explanation of his reasoning in vetoing legislation that would have stipulated new minimum requirements for creating college districts.

Gov. Walker did not intend his veto to indicate that non-statute ICCB guidelines have the force of law, he told the delegation.

Instead, the guidelines ought to be only one of a number of factors considered and weighed in deciding whether to approve new districts, he said.

A junior college study group headed by Attorney Leo H. Konzen has been seeking formation of a new district. If this is not permitted by the state, the group favors annexation to Belleville Area College.

Those conferring with Gov. Walker were Konzen, Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City, Dr. John E. Lee, mayor of Venice, Carl E. Mathias and the Rev. Roy Baugh.

An advisory committee formed by the ICCB plans to confer with Quad-Cityans in early November, perhaps at a public meeting.

They were pronounced dead at the scene by Madison County Deputy Coroner Ed Werner.

Examination of the car revealed a defective muffler which allowed carbon monoxide to leak into the car.

Werner called the deaths apparently accidental. An inquest will be held.

Police said Georgeff was found slumped behind the steering wheel, with the window on the driver's side down about four inches.

Miss Burke was slumped over in the seat next to him.

The deaths were thought to have occurred between 7 a.m. and 9 a.m. Saturday.

Miss Burke's body was taken to Springfield, where she has relatives.

Georgeff was a student at Bailey Technical School, where he was studying auto mechanics in St. Louis. A 1969 graduate of Granite City High School, he was a member of St. Peter's United Church of Christ.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vasil Georgeff of Granite City; one sister, Vicki Carroll of Aviston, Ill.; and grandmothers, Mrs. Stella Fosse of Harrisburg, Pa., and Mrs. Helen Georgeff of Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are listed in the obituary column.

Fumes fatal to 2

Mark Allen Georgeff, 22, of 3625C Village Lane, and Miss Cynthia Burke, 20, of 2560 State St., formerly of Springfield, Ill., were found dead in an auto at 9:15 a.m. Saturday parked in front of 224 State St., apparently victims of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Police, responding to an unknown caller, found the couple in the car with the car heater and windshield wipers turned on and the gas gauge reading empty.

They were pronounced dead at the scene by Madison County Deputy Coroner Ed Werner.

Require 1973 plates to Dec. 1

Mailing of 1974 license plates has begun, but Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett reminded motorists today that by law 1973 plates must be kept on vehicles until Dec. 1.

Howlett said everyone receiving new plates should check the number against the enclosed identification card and store the plates in a safe place until the legal date for display.

Direct contacts aid United Way

Direct solicitation of prospective contributors has resulted in upgrading of Tri-Cities Area United Way pledges where it has been done this fall, campaign leaders said today.

The fifth report meeting of the 18-agency drive is set for 4:30 p.m. Wednesday at the YMCA.

At the fourth meeting, it was announced that financial goals have reached $366,262, or 91½ percent of the minimum goal of $400,000.

Although not all companies have permitted their employees to be given pledge cards, the percentage has increased substantially and now represents a vast majority of all

Quad-City firms, it was noted. The payroll deduction plan is becoming increasingly popular.

There are still a large number of cases unreported, indicating the possibility of a figure near the $400,000 goal being attained. However, some of the breakthroughs achieved this fall will not have their full impact until the campaign a year from now, it is believed.

Emphasis is being placed on completion of all solicitation, and on adhering to the "fair share" level of giving.

New contacts are being made with some of the potential giving who have indicated they will contribute to the United Way.

records of hydraulic data to determine a "project" flood as one that would occur on a possibility basis of once in a 100-year frequency.

"The Illinois Division of Water Resources Management has developed an interim plan for the handling of the lesser, more frequent flooding that has plagued the Doherty Slough location."

"The new plan is compatible with the long range primary system being developed by the Corps."

"In the interim plan, a secondary system of transporting storm waters from the Doherty Slough through the Ames Avenue sewer system and into Nameki Ditch will be utilized."

"It will require local residents to plan and construct secondary systems such as the one proposed to tie in with the main sewer system being planned by the Corps."

"The Corps has agreed that the interim measure proposed is desirable. But to rely on these types of programs is, at best, a limited method of controlling one of the lesser, more frequent flooding problems and would not prove effective if used singularly on the larger floods."

"The sewer system just does not have that kind of capacity. But we definitely feel that such emergency measures are desirable until the major, broad-based drainage program can be implemented."

"The Corps is working on the primary system. Such types of integrated secondary water transfer can become part of the total 'line' program."

Halloween

Granite City parade will experience no difficulty as traffic is halted and a careful eye is kept on the younger children, Brown said.

However, children walking to and from the downtown parade should be escorted or given specific instructions on traffic safety and other precautionary conduct rules, Chief Veizer reminded parents.

Madison Police Chief Frank Dutko and Chief Ralph Bravley of Venice today urged parents to have youthful trick or treaters off the streets and home at 9 p.m. and to limit their Halloween activities to Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

All three police chiefs suggested that parents keep their children in their own neighborhoods and restrict their calls to homes of people they know, thus avoiding the possibility of harmful incidents.

Chief Dutko pointed out the 9 p.m. curfew during the Halloween period primarily is for the protection of children, but also is aimed at discouraging excessive acts of vandalism in the late hours.

Special police, including auxiliaries, have been alerted for duty in Madison and Venice areas as a preventive and protective measure, the police chiefs stated.

In Granite City, Pontoon Beach and Mitchell areas, the A.L.E.T. Club, a group of city defense citizens' band radio operators, will assist the regular police departments in a special patrolling program.

It was an exciting and rewarding week at Granite City High School-North.

The student body chose its first Fall Festival King and Queen; parents and pupils witnessed the debut performance of the Fall Festival play and the North's leaders won their first annual Festival football contest by stomping Bethalto, 20 to 0.

Miss Donna Voss, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bethel Voss, 2408 Roney Drive, and Jeff Larner, 17, son of Mrs. and Mrs. William Larner, Rural Route 1, Box 10206, were crowned Festival King and Queen in ceremonies Thursday evening.

A capacity audience viewed the Festival play—"You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown"—which climaxed with the crowning of the royal Festival couple.

Miss Voss, is completing her senior year in a commercial course at North. Larner, also a senior, is taking a general studies course.

Attendees at the Festival court were Misses Diane Becherer, Janet Morlen, Robin Scarborough, Gerry Sudholt, Barbara Sieber, Lisa Novosel, Cindy Arnold and Cindy Davis, Escorts were: Frank Polajny, Dave Landway, Steve DeMaere, Larry Petri, John Hursey, Rick Dickerson, Dwight Lewis and John McMillon.

Festival booths sponsored by school organizations were operated in the cafeteria for three days last week and a pop assembly Friday afternoon set the stage for the Festival play to night at the GCHS-South field.

Concluding activities was a student victory dance following the game at the North cafeteria. Music was furnished by "Fresh."

"We need a larger space for assembling and sorting out these slabs, as well as additional crane capacity, a larger roll shop to accommodate increased hot mill volume, plus a storage building, truckage, and so on."

"Further along the line, we have studies under way for future upgrading in the hot mill, and having Mesta study the four-stage cold mill to see what we might have to do to upgrade the capability of that unit."

"We also have studies going on for replacement of our existing pickler, and for additional galvanizing facilities."

Pontoon studies sewer costs

Receipts and disbursements of the Pontoon Beach sewer fund for the past four years were turned over to the finance committee for study at the village board meeting Thursday night.

Sever expenditures have been high, according to one city official who said an effort will be made to project future cost after the ongoing studies what has been spent and why.

A final notice on delinquent sewer bills in Quiet Valley is being sent out and residents failing to pay their sewer bills will face legal action.

Ronald Hastings, village sanitary engineer, was authorized to purchase a new roots blower and repair parts for use in the Quiet Valley lagoon.

The board accepted a bid in the amount of $4,881 from C. P. Peters Construction Co. for storm drainage work between Fontainebleau and Victory drives. The work will be done under the supervision of Sheppard, Morgan and Schwaab, Inc., civil engineers.

Village President Floyd David Moss and a delegate to be named by Moss were granted permits to attend a seminar on federal revenue sharing funds to be held in Springfield next month.

The next meeting of the village board will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 8, at the Pontoon Beach Village Hall.

Further action on Madison students

Three more student suspension cases growing out of fights and other incidents at Madison High School were resolved by the Board of Education Thursday night after the board first met with separate student and parent bi-racial committees to consider administrative changes recommended by students.

The board agreed with members of both committees that the school has a need for more supervision of physical education classes, both cited by the student committee.

A third issue, open school lunch periods, was deferred by the board until a future meeting to allow more time for consideration. The high school has had a lunch period since 1968, which students do not leave the building, since 1968.

The board convened in a closed session at 8 p.m. Thursday to review remaining cases in which students were suspended because of disruptive behavior.

One student whose case was deferred from Tuesday until Thursday did not appear or work school officials. He was expelled from school.

Another student was reinstated on probation pending review of his academic achievements at the end of each six-week period.

Another student was allowed to go back to school under the direct supervision of Richard Brown, school principal.

No other action concerning students involved in the incidents is scheduled by the board unless requested by the school administration, board members said.

By direction of the Board of Education, "We are now looking into the matter of academic achievement, absenteeism and a possible correlation with the students causing trouble at the school."

Superintendent of Schools John Palchick said.

"Some students with a low academic achievement level may need help in a different program and we want to do everything possible to help our students be successful," he said.

"By the same token, the student who does not want to try and just causes trouble, we will be prepared to handle also."

In an action not related to the recent MHS problem, the board expelled another student.

At 6:30 p.m. Thursday the board reviewed the "A-160 plan" for community involvement in school operations.

Students, teachers, community leaders, school administrators and board members have been involved in working out a plan for Madison schools, setting program goals and determining needs of the district.

A special meeting of the board has been called for 6:30 p.m. Tuesday to review and give final approval to the A-160 plan prior to forwarding it to the State Office of Public Instruction at Springfield.

Smith may buy building firm

Milwaukee — A. O. Smith Corp. has obtained an option to acquire the National Steel Construction Co. through an exchange of common stock, L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer of A. O. Smith, announced last week.

Smith said an agreement in principle on the option has been signed by officials of both companies. The option expires Oct. 31. National Steel Construction is a West Coast-based manufacturer of residential and commercial water heating equipment.

Smith said the acquisition if completed, would relieve the capacity strain on current facilities caused in part by growing demand in Europe, which A. O. Smith serves mainly by export.

Shoplifting called a costly burden to all

Directors of the Illinois Retail Merchants Association have designated Nov. 11-17 as Everything Has A Price Week. It has been announced by Hugh E. Muncy, IRMA president.

"Purpose of the special week is to stimulate awareness among the general public of the fact that shoplifting can cost you plenty," Muncy said.

"Shoplifting contributes to inflation, can lead to the ruin of career plans, and is responsible for wasted dollars and needless work."

Annual losses due to shoplifting are estimated to be $4.8 billion nationally. Illinois merchants are believed to bear over $800 million of that loss. Shoplifting has increased over 150 per cent in the last decade to become the nation's fastest growing crime, Muncy said. While no one sex, race, religion or economic or social group is responsible for all shoplifting, fifty per cent of thefts from stores are committed by teenagers, with more and more "respectable" adults participating in this crime.

It is contended that perhaps 99 per cent of those persons apprehended for shoplifting had enough money in their pockets to pay for the merchandise stolen.

Activities will be scheduled with retailers, educators, youth groups, clergy and law enforcement officers cooperating. Primary goal for the week is to reach young people with facts on how "everyone pays for shoplifting."

Information on the personal price individuals pay when convicted of shoplifting, the cost borne by society, the community, the economy will be disseminated through school programs and public events, Muncy added.

New building recommended

Jack Ross of the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation has recommended to the Advisory Council of Specialized Services that it construct a new workshop building rather than attempt to remodel an old one, the council was informed during a meeting last week.

William Crivello reported on a field trip to Grant's Farm for which a bus was furnished by the Association for the Retarded. He reported that two new workshop contracts had been procured. Linda Mills, workshop director, told the council that handicraft items were sold at the First National Bank in Madison during a display set up for observance of Handicapped Week. Fifty persons attended an open house for the workshop held early this month, she reported.

The council is in need of new locations at which to sell arts and crafts items.

Ask the Governor

Q. There is a large number of handicapped people in Illinois. I would like to know if there are any programs for re-designing sidewalks, curbs, shelters and transportation so that paraplegic and quadriplegic persons can get around more easily?

A. In August, I signed legislation that requires all intersections in business and commercial areas throughout the state to install ramps for wheelchairs wherever the curb is being repaired or a new one installed. Another bill I signed provides special support for local transportation facilities to enable handicapped people, people in wheelchairs, to get on and off of public conveniences.

Q. With respect to the recent Stateville Penitentiary riots, you stated there would be no amnesty. Now there appears to be some confusion about what the prisoners negotiated between amnesty and reprisals. The prisoners feel double-crossed. What is your stand on amnesty?

A. I've discussed this subject at length with prison officials. I don't think there is any misunderstanding on the part of prisoners. The prisoners understand very well the distinction between the two words. Prisoners fear reprisals. They fear it means getting beat up. That has happened in the past. I am told. Reprisals, I have said repeatedly, at Menard and again at Stateville will not be tolerated. By reprisals we mean that inmates will not be beaten up, they will not have their food taken away from them, they will not be subjected to physical abuse or any other kind of abuse because they participated in disturbances. But they also understand there will be no amnesty for a violation of the law. There is absolutely no way you can run a prison and keep even a semblance of discipline if you are going to give people amnesty for violating the law. You cannot run a prison if you're going to grant amnesty. You can run one without reprisals and that's what I'm going to do. At Menard and at Stateville I obtained a list of the complaints that the prisoners had and we're going to see that any legitimate complaint is rectified.

Q. Is there an administrative liaison in your office who can direct his efforts to preventing costly duplication of service, and administrative errors at universities in this state?

A. I share your view. But the answer is no, there is not and cannot be because the university system in Illinois is under the Board of Higher Education, not under the governor's office. I do not have any authority or direct control over the operations of the universities. I am going to ask, though, that the universities follow the same precepts that I try to apply. When I read in a newspaper that vice presidents at Southern Illinois University are all getting new limousines, I have to wonder about where some of the money is going.

Q. I have heard that a child can turn a simple box of matches into a lethal weapon.

A. Wiring behind the walls — another cause that one can't even see, much less do anything about. Wiring is covered with spider webs, sawdust, and dirt. It can become faulty and the simple act of pulling a plug or flipping a switch can set off a tiny spark which could turn a

A house fire every 57 seconds

By KEN THOMPSON
Proceeded Fast Writer
Tears rolled down the cheeks of a young mother as she recalled the early morning blaze which destroyed her home and took the life of her 3-year old daughter.

"The smoke was thick... I could hear my daughter crying, but I couldn't reach her," she said.

"She was crying 'Mommy, Mommy I can't find you.' Then the cries stopped."

If a new disease were found to be killing more children than the leading childhood diseases there would be a public clamor for immediate action.

Fire does this very thing each year by killing more children than leukemia, rheumatic fever, diseases of the heart, and polio combined.

The National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) reports that over 1,500 homes burn each day. This means that someone's home catches fire every 57 seconds.

There are three primary reasons why 75 per cent of all fire deaths occur in homes and why there are more than 100 serious injuries for each fatality.

1. All of them have to do with the innocent victim's lack of knowledge regarding fire. They do not know how fires start, how it spreads and how it kills.

2. Smoking — more than 160,000 fires started from smoking last year.

3. Matches — a child can turn a simple box of matches into a lethal weapon.

4. Wiring behind the walls — another cause that one can't even see, much less do anything about. Wiring is covered with spider webs, sawdust, and dirt. It can become faulty and the simple act of pulling a plug or flipping a switch can set off a tiny spark which could turn a home into an oven.

Electricity — which accounts for more than 35 per cent of all home fires. Worn wiring, too many appliances, overloaded outlets, and faulty fuses all create fire hazards.

There are many other causes — flammable liquids, old newspapers and lighting to name a few.

According to the NFPA, most home fires strike during the night. Eighty per cent occur between midnight and 6 a.m. Most people do not realize that it is not the actual fire that kills. It is a combination of super heated air and poisonous gases developed by the fire.

The most dangerous of these gases is carbon monoxide, better known as sleeping gas. You can't see it, hear it, taste it, or smell it, and when it descends on a sleeping family, they just go right on sleeping.

The federal government reports that fire strikes swiftly and silently and you have an average of only four minutes to escape. In that time you must be warned, alert your family and get them all out alive.

It says that the average person doesn't realize how rapidly fire spreads.

In the first minute, the ceiling temperature is 136 degrees. If you plan to escape, now is the time to do it.

In just two minutes the ceiling temperature has climbed to 390 degrees. This is roasting temperature and if you aren't out by now you are in serious troubles.

When three minutes have passed the temperature at the ceiling has skyrocketed to 770 degrees. At this stage other fires are spreading just from the intense heat itself.

A wooden door or table will burst into flames in seconds, and if you aren't out now, you won't get out.

Because in the fourth and final minute, the home is a raging inferno. Ceiling temperature is 1,000 to 1,500 degrees and one breath of this air would kill anyone.

The NFPA has issued six steps to survival which should be executed immediately:

1. Survey your home and decide upon the quickest and easiest exit from each room. Make certain you have an alternate route in case the first exit is blocked by smoke or flames.

2. Conduct regular planned fire drills and go over the basics of escape.

3. Roll out of bed when alerted. Do not jump up. Remember poisonous gases may be hovering above your bed.

4. Walk in a crouched position near the floor, and do not stop to pick up your belongings. In a fire, a crouched count.

5. Close doors behind you to keep the fire from spreading more rapidly and never open a door when the handle is hot.

6. Have a designated meeting place outside the house to avoid unnecessary re-entry, and always call the fire department from a neighbor's home.

The most important rule is to make your entire family fire conscious.

Remember, you can live all your life without a fire, but only four minutes with one.

Venice asks public aid in reducing burglaries

The Venice Police Department is appealing to citizens to assist them in apprehending burglars whose activities in the last few months have increased in the community.

In a letter distributed to area church congregations last week, Venice police officers asked public cooperation in an effort to reduce the number of burglaries by providing information concerning incidents in the community.

"We the police and the good citizens of this city face a problem," the letter states.

"Our city had a total of 69 burglaries from July to October this year and these burglaries totaled about $10,000 in merchandise.

"You may have been a victim of some kind of theft. Look next to you — your neighbor may have been a witness to this crime, maybe he or she told you who did it," the letter continues.

"Your police department is here to protect you and your property. We are only as good as our citizens make us and without your help these crimes against you, your neighbors and your property will continue."

"We need help. No matter how small you think it is, your information could help us bring this problem to an end."

The police offered several points that could assist in reducing the burglary rate.

They asked witnesses to note the type of car or truck used; license plate number, color and year or make of vehicle; and names or description of persons seen in the area of a crime.

"If you are planning to be away from home, notify a neighbor and have them call us if anything or anybody unusual is observed around your house while you are absent," the officer advised. The Venice Police Department, telephone number is 877-2114.

Kindergarten-8th grade street safety training

The bicycle and pedestrian safety curriculum developed a year ago by the state education office will be available to all school districts in the state by the end of this school year, State School Supt. Michael J. Bakalis said last week.

The original curriculum was for kindergarten through grade five. The program for grades six through eight has been completed, and it also is being made available to districts.

"The curriculum for the lower grades was implemented last year in more than half the school districts in the state, and the response to it has been overwhelming," Bakalis said.

The curriculum, first of its kind, has been hailed by the U.S. Department of Transportation as a model program, and requests for copies have come from 14 countries and every state.

Tailored to the comprehension level of each age group, the curriculum provides a detailed instruction program, with complete lesson plans and suggested learning materials and activities.

For example, kindergartners learn about color as related to safety by dressing a paper doll in appropriately-colored clothing (bright mittens for dark days), and operating a home-made traffic light. Rhymes and songs, coloring games and such familiar figures as Humpty Dumpty and Jack and Jill all enter into the learning situation.

First graders go on to more complicated concepts, such as learning the time dusk falls during the different seasons and doing experiments in visibility.

By grade five, students are studying identification of warning signs and proper use of hand signals.

The program moves away from the practice of memorizing lists of do's and don'ts as a way of teaching safety. Instead it emphasizes basic safety concepts and attitudes.

"We cannot wait until a student is ready for driver education to begin teaching him traffic safety," Bakalis concluded. "By the time he is a sophomore in high school, his attitudes already are established. Safety education must begin at an early age if it is to be effective."

Kerner defense fund is planned

Compassion for Agnew? Then how about a little compassion for Kerner? That's the way some Illinois Democrats feel about the Justice Department's attitude toward the two historic cases.

When Federal Judge and former Gov. Otto Kerner was convicted, the Nixon administration gloried in its ability to root out corruption, Springfield observers report. Top Nixon aides aboard Air Force 1 even called prosecutor James Thompson in Illinois to congratulate him personally on his handling of the case.

When Vice President Spiro Agnew pleaded guilty, the administration urged compassion. Kerner, a public official for 25 years, was convicted of buying stock at a special price and not paying enough federal income tax on the profit. He was fined $50,000 and sentenced to three years in prison. Appeals are still being heard.

Agnew, on the other hand, was in office 11 years and is accused of taking cash bribes during much of that time. His sentence? A $10,000 fine and three years probation.

Of course, there are differences, too. Kerner, in the history of the country did a felony suspect have so much to bargain with. Agnew's resignation was clearly in the best interest of the nation, even if he did it in order to avoid going to jail.

Kerner, on the other hand, was in no position to throw the country into a constitutional crisis.

Although Agnew is informally charged with more extensive crimes, Kerner stands convicted of more than Agnew. And Agnew technically cooperated with prosecutors by pleading "no contest," while Kerner fought his indictment and conviction—indeed, he is still fighting it.

That points out an accused politician's dilemma when it comes time to consider resignation. Agnew resigns and much of the public equates resignation with guilt. Kerner does not resign and he gets blasted for drawing his salary while under indictment.

Kerner has now put his salary in a special fund so he can draw it if vindicated or turn it back to the government if his appeal fails.

In view of his financial plight, newspaper advertisements urging people to contribute to Kerner's defense fund will begin appearing across the state.

The oral arguments in his appeal are scheduled for the same court where he formerly served.

Kerner contends the stock transaction can be labeled imprudent, unwise, ill-advised or a potential conflict of interest—but any supposedly corrupt motive has been vastly distorted, he asserts.

Miss Wolfe is Central queen

Miss Mary L. Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wolfe, 2001 Amos Ave., has been chosen at the 1973 Homecoming Queen at Central Methodist College, Fayette, Mo.

A senior English major, she was elected by the CMC student body to reign over the annual festivities. She is president of Alpha Phi Alpha social sorority, and is active in speech and dramatics.

Homecoming queen and king candidates participated in a traditional parade. The coronation ceremony took place at Davis Field prior to other pregame activities. Honor seats were reserved for the royalty at the 50-yard-line during an afternoon football game with Central's arch-rival, Missouri Valley. Central Methodist College is a coeducational career-oriented liberal arts college established in 1854. The town is 30 miles northwest of Columbia, about midway between St. Louis and Kansas City. It has more than 45 areas of concentration and serves a student body of 750. The college grants four separate baccalaureate degrees, in addition to a number of two-year programs leading to the associate of arts degree and associate of science degree.

Women agents join Ill. Bureau of Investigation

Graduation exercises were held Thursday for 16 Illinois Bureau of Investigation agents, including four women. The four are the first female agents to be assigned to the bureau since its inception in January 1970. Harvey N. Johnson Jr., director of the Department of Law Enforcement, said the four had not only broken a barrier in discrimination but also had added a new dimension to the bureau's investigation of narcotic sales and organized crime.

The new agents bring the total number to 150. In addition to women, there are also blacks and Spanish-speaking agents. Of the new agents, eight will be assigned to the Springfield office, six to the Chicago office and two to the Rolling Meadows office as racetrack investigators.

The agents underwent 11 weeks of intensive training in general criminal investigation work, narcotics investigation, weapons and self-defense at the Chicago training facility. Each agent has had either five years of experience as a policeman or two years of college. Many have four-year college degrees and have taken additional coursework.

Willow Walk cats win honor

Mrs. David Taylor of the Willow Walk Cattery, 148 Central Ave., St. Charles, and Mrs. Jerry Cox, 4016 Rode Ave., attended the 71st annual cat show last week at Springcat, sponsored by the Illinois Feline Fanciers. The show was staged in the Illinois Building at the State Fairgrounds and featured about 300 entries representing a dozen different breeds, ranging from Himalayans to the common household pet cat.

Entries were judged in four separate rings by six judges according to the specific breed and specialty.

Mrs. Taylor's cream male Persian-Willow Walk Willie Boy and a blue cream female Persian-Willow Walk Wilma Deanne placed first in all four contests in the Novice class. Alexander Jerome, a brown tabby male Persian, sired by Willow Walk Jerome and belonging to Ellen McCloskey of St. Louis, placed first and "Best of Color" in all four rings in the Premier Class which features neutered and spayed felines. The local bred winners, together with other Willow Walk cats, will be shown at the St.

Louis cat show in November. Part of the proceeds from the Illinois show will be contributed to a $500 scholarship grant for veterinary medicine students in Illinois. It is the second such scholarship awarded future veterinarians by the Illinois Feline Fanciers' Association, Mrs. Taylor said.

Jaycee Region will convene

The Southwest Region of the Illinois Jaycees will hold its fall meeting Saturday, Nov. 3. This year, as in previous years, the session will be held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Breese.

Activities will begin with registration at 2 p.m. The meeting and ladies' program will start at 5:30 p.m., with the Illinois Jaycee president addressing the gathering. The meeting will conclude with a dance from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The meeting is open to all Jaycees and their wives.

Festive night for North High football Steelers in 20-0 victory

By KENT THOMPSON

Radio and TV personality
Jack Etzel directed the band, the GCHS North fans stood and sang the school song, "...on to victory you Steelers, on to victory all the way..." and the Steelers posted their third consecutive win Friday night.

North High shut out the visiting Bethalto Eagles 20-0 under the lights at South Stadium to top off the new school's first Fall Festival homecoming.

Both teams were scoreless in the first quarter and it wasn't until the second period, after Bethalto failed to move from its own end zone and had to kick away, that the Steelers began a touchdown march.

Lenny Wright picked up the momentum and in three ground plays traveled to the six-inch marker, where he was knocked out of bounds by Bethalto's Rick Hill.

what Quarterback Logas did with a keeper to strike paydirt. Wright's extra point kick failed with eight minutes left in the half and North had a 6-0 lead.

Bethalto, fresh from a 20-0 victory at Triad, threatened to score twice before halftime but North's "monster defense" refused to allow a touchdown.

John McMillan, on the next play, recovered a fumble resulting from a tackle of the Quarterback behind the line of scrimmage.

After North failed to move the ball, Bethalto took possession on its 34 with 28 seconds left in the half.

The last play of the game came with the Eagles on their own 47 after recovering a North fumble with less than a minute to go.

Long touchdown pass but South loses 13-7

The gridiron Warriors of GCHS South had their hopes of a Southwestern Conference championship dashed Saturday at East St. Louis when the Flyers scored twice to upend them 13-7.

East St. Louis scored again in the fourth quarter to command a 13-0 lead with just five minutes left to play. But the Fighting Warriors refused to be shut out.

Dombeck hit on seven out of 19 passes for a total of 122 yards. The victory upset the Flyers' SWC record to 4-0 and 5-1 overall.

South with the last play, scored its 10th TD in the game. The victory moved the Flyers to 11 wins in the Steelers 29, where the defensive unit forced a change of possession by stopping the Eagles inches short of a first down.

Columbia met a tough Nashville squad, losing 16-6, and Mississippi Valley Conference leader Rossau tied the record to 6-0 by downing Jerseyville 32-6. Highland downed Triad 27-6 in only other MVC game.

South High wins 3-0; sectional game here

By KENT THOMPSON
Press-Record Staff Writer
A wet, cold and windy Saturday morning at South Field, the district title at stake, Coach Gene Bokor pacing the sidelines barking instructions in an air of silence falling over the field as time began to expire, and then it was over.

The second period was a battle between South goalkeeper Keith Kibort and Assumption's Terry Kowalczyk of Madison.

South and Jacksonville, which defeated GCHS North Saturday at Jacksonville, will compete for the sectional title here Saturday, Nov. 3, at 11 a.m. on South Field. In their first clash, this month, the Warriors defeated Jacksonville 8-1.

North upset for soccer crown

The soccer Steelers of GCHS North, in their first year of competition, carried a 15-2 record against Jacksonville Saturday in its quest for a district title, but found the host team a bit tougher the second time around.

North had defeated Jacksonville 7-2 in regular season play, but was beaten 2-1. Ranked first in its district, North earned a 14th minute lead on Mike Demaree's unassisted goal early in the second period.

Mendoza Sporting 5, J&M

Penalties in the next series of plays set Madison back 25 yards to its 26, after MHB had driven 40 yards from the three.

The Tigers blocked Madison's fourth down punt and recovered it on the right to set up Wilhelm's sweep around right end for another six points.

Madison will carry on 6-7 record against Howell (Weldon Springs, Mo.) Saturday in a 2 p.m. game on the Trojan home grounds.

Bunjan: all-purpose athlete

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Staff Writer
From a spectator in Gary, Ind., to a star quarterback and soccer-style kicker in Granite City spans the career thus far for GCHS South's Bryan Bunjan.

"I became interested in football through my father," recalls Bryan. "He would take me to every home game at Northwestern University (Evanston, Ill.) to watch my uncle play."

Upon moving here, he enrolled as a third grade pupil in Niedringhaus Grade School and joined the local YMCA soccer program, where he learned and developed his kicking style.

Bunjan first began taking a hard, long look at football under the coaching of Richard Williams and Jon Tonciff at Coolidge Junior High.

As starting quarterback, Bunjan last year helped lead the 9th grade Braves to a 6-1 season record.

Today Tonciff remarked, "An all-around athlete. He can throw any kind of pass, long or short."

"Besides being an excellent extra-point kicker, Bryan can pull a team out of a tight spot with his running."

As a quarterback of this year's junior varsity squad at South, Bunjan helped the team to three consecutive victories, including a 28-3 win over Collinsville when he scored two TD's and kicked four extra points.

"I might not be able to kick the ball as far with my style of kicking, but I seem to have more control over it," the athlete reports.

He has kicked field goals of 25 and 35 yards, including one which helped the varsity Warriors to a 17-15 victory over Edwardsville last month.

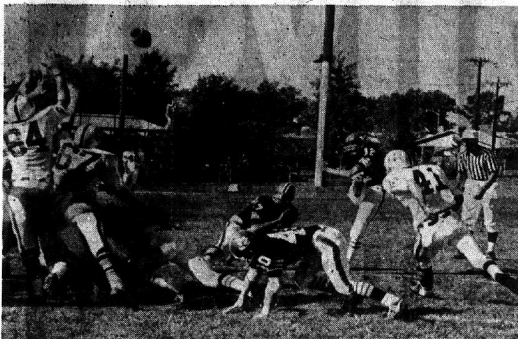

An extra point kicker and back-up quarterback, along with Kirk Champion, on the South varsity team, Bunjan says he enjoys kicking but would prefer to shape his career as a quarterback.

"I've been forming my quarterback habits and techniques after Dave Dombek, whom I think is the greatest QB around. My weakest point is in passing and I've been watching Dave real close while trying to improve."

Unlike many sports minded youngsters who might worship a George Blanda or a Jim Hart, Bryan has no specific professional heroes.

"There is so much of a contrast in the quality of the game. Varsity football and professional football are two different stages of the game. They are a world apart," he notes.

"A player who achieves any degree of success," says South Jayvee Coach Leroy Beck, "has to be dedicated to the sport. Bryan Bunjan is that type of athlete."

Cage Cougars—a tall story

Drills have opened for the 1977-78 basketball season at Mater Dei High School and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Coach Jim Dudley, beginning his fourth season, has a turnout of 30 hopefuls.

Dudley, who has posted two winning campaigns in three seasons at SIUE, has only two starters back—Thurman "Butch" Ferree and Leon Wright.

Despite the loss of his star playmaker and top scorer, Tony Johnson, and a pair of leading pointmen in Terry Carlson and Denny Throneburg, Dudley appears to be confident of success in the coming campaign.

Says Dudley: "We have more depth than in the past and have better overall size. Our problem will be finding the right combination and getting our boys to function together as a unit. This will take time."

Dudley also will have much time. The Cougar cagers open their season Saturday, Dec. 1, against Purdue University at Lafayette, Ind. The Boiler-makers are favored to win the Big Ten Conference championship.

Three junior college transfers, Doug Young from East St. Louis, 6-6 Roy Rieckman, Steeleville, Ill., and Rick LaRose, Robinson, Ill., are sure to play important roles for the Cougars.

Dudley also will be counting heavily on two players he "shirted" last season, Alton's Don Kopenhaver and Troy's Keith McFarland, who was a top scorer for the Belleville Community College Dutchmen, will be at one of the wings.

Young and Rieckman, both around six-foot, six-inches tall, should give the Cougars control of the boards in most games. And both are good scorers.

Up from the best junior varsity squad ever fielded at SIUE at 6-5 John Strubberg, who wrote the record books at Belleville's St. Henry High, and Tom Howard, a brilliant performer at Cahokia High.

Two transfers from the University of Corpus Christi in Texas, Kevin Kellerman from Breese, Ill., and Tom Butler from Highland, Ind., could be the big difference for the Cougars this season. Kellerman set all kinds of scoring records at Mater Dei High School and Butler was a top pointmaker for Edison High School in northern Indiana.

Some fans believe Butler could fill Tony Johnson's shoes. If he can, the Cougars could be in for another standout basketball season.

Two up from the JV's who could help in spot situations are Mike Van Hecke and Greg Volk.

Freshman aspirants who have a good chance of making the varsity are: 6-6 Mike Bartels, Taylorville; Joe Kimpe, 6-6 from Moline, Ill.; 6-6 Jim Fontaine, East Moline; 6-6 Ron Lorenz, York High School at Elmhurst, Ill., and Rick Jaki, 6-4 guard from St. Paul High of Highland.

Park sports award dinner on Nov. 19

The Granite City Park District's annual Sports Award Banquet will be held in the cafeteria of South High School at 8:15 p.m. Monday, Nov. 19.

The event is to honor participants in the Park District sports programs, with special awards being presented to individuals and teams that have excelled.

Service and appreciation awards will be presented to an individual or individuals who have contributed time and effort in supporting youth programs in this community.

This year's banquet will have Pittsburgh Pirates baseball player Dale Maxwell, former Granite Cityan and former Cardinal shortstop, and other sports personalities as guest speakers.

Braves win to tie for first

Coolidge running backs Bruce Wright and Jay Huebner scored TD's Thursday to lead the Braves in a 19-0 victory over the Grigby Gators and a first-place Madison County Jr. High Conference tie with Prather.

Wright gave the undefeated Braves a 6-0 halftime lead with a first-quarter 35-yard run on a double reverse play executed by Quarterback Mike Forshee. He scored again in the third period, breaking through the middle for a 50-yard paydirt dash.

A 35-yard pass play from Forshee to Huebner provided a third Coolidge TD. Tim Wierzycki muffed on two previous kicks, booted the ball through the uprights to add a point.

Grigby, ending the season with a 1-3-1 record, lost its only chance to tie on the scoreboard in the opening minute of play after driving to the Braves' 8-yardline on Quarterback Bob Skinner's ground plays to John Hardwell, Mike Simpson and Dan Butler.

A strong defense stopped the scoring attempt with a blocked field goal.

Adams-Line wedding at 1st Presbyterian Church

The wedding of Miss Patricia Jean Line and Michael Joe Adams was solemnized in a candlelight ceremony on Sept. 22 at the First United Presbyterian Church.

Urn of white pom poms and baby breath adorned the altar and the candles in aisle standards were festooned with satin ribbon centered with sprigs of lily of the valley. Serving as candlelighters were Miss Lori Adams, a sister of the groom and Randy Miles, the groom's cousin.

Performing the double-ring service at 7 o'clock was the Rev. David Maxton.

Nuptial selections, "More," "A Time For Us" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by soloist Miss Martha Hubbard.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen W. Line, reside at 4809 Berrywick Terrace, St. Louis, and formerly are of Granite City. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Adams, 406 Vesel Ave.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a full-length gown of white angel ala mode silk, featuring a round yoke and tapered sleeves of Nottingham lace etched with tiny pearls. Her belted Empire waistline was marked with matching lace that was repeated on the very deep flounce at the hem.

Venise lace motifs were applied on the slightly full skirt and cathedral-length train that was edged in a wide border of Nottingham lace.

She wore a Venise lace cap to secure her melody-length veil of illusion edged with a tiny row of lace. The bride bouquet was a cascade of white roses, light blue baby breath interspersed with greenery.

Mrs. Walter Vidan, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was groomed in a Victorian-style dress of cotton blue crepe. The collar and cuffs were fashioned in ivory fabric edged with Nottingham lace. The fitted waistline was defined with matching fabric.

She wore a cotton blue picture hat adorned with an ivory grosgrain ribbon and a cluster of old fashion flowers in the back. She held a nose gay of pastel-colored flowers, accented with blue and ivory satin ribbons.

Miss Connie Coe, Miss Cindy Adams, a sister of the groom, were bridesmaids, and Miss Lori Line, the bride's sister, served as junior bridesmaid.

They wore identical gowns to the honor attendant and carried nosegays in the same colors.

The flower girl, Elizabeth Adams, a sister of the groom, wore a long old fashioned style dress of cotton blue dotted swiss with small-flocked flowers, and blue ribbons in her hair. She held a wicker basket filled with red rose petals.

Gerald Vidan was the ringbearer.

Attending the groom as best man was Michael French. Groomsmen and ushers included Dennis Thurston and Jack Dempsey, both cousins of the groom. Stephen Hileman, Clyde Kelly, Walter Vidan, a brother-in-law of the bride and Stephen and Gerald Line, both brothers of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Line selected a peppermint green polyester knit floor-length gown with an Empire waist and open lapel neckline complemented with a long-sleeved jacket enhanced with matching Venise lace trim.

Mrs. Adams, the groom's mother, was attired in a long ice-blue silk worsted shirt-waist dress, fashioned with a jewel collar and matching accessories. They wore white cymbidium orchids herbisoned to match their frocks.

A reception was held at Lewis and Clark Restaurant in East Alton and the rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at Charlie's Restaurant. After a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Granite City.

The bride is a graduate of Lindbergh High School and is a junior at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, majoring in nursing. She is employed at both Granite City Glass Co. and J & L Hobby Shop. Mr. Adams was graduated from Granite City High School and is a junior student in pre-medical studies at SIUE. He also works at Granite City Glass Co. and is a former drum major of the Black Knights Drum and Bugle Corps.

Rev. Oetting to leave area

The Rev. Louis J. Oetting, pastor of Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Wabash Ave., for the past four years, will deliver his last sermon at the church on Nov. 4 prior to leaving for Lombard, Ill.

He will assume the duties of pastor at St. John Lutheran Church in Lombard sometime in November.

While residing in Granite City, Rev. Oetting, has served on the Lay Advisory Committee of St. Elizabeth Hospital and held office in the Quad-City Ministerial Association. He also is chairman of the District Mission Committee of Southern Illinois District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod.

Rev. Oetting and his wife, Sharon, and their four children have resided at the church parsonage at 3248 Westchester Drive.

The church does not have a replacement pastor at the present time.

Attend WWI veterans meeting

Local members of Veterans of World War One and Auxiliary, Barracks 34, attended a joint meeting of barracks and auxiliary units in the 4th District, Department of Illinois, last week in Jerseyville.

A potluck dinner at 12:30 p.m. was followed by meetings conducted by District Commander Morris Campbell of Alton and Mrs. Violet Schmidt of Edwardsville, district president.

GC students paint downtown store windows for Halloween

"Brilliant colors and 'spooky' caricature figures are in evidence this week on the windows of 50 business firms and retail stores in downtown Granite City, reminding shoppers that Halloween night is almost here.

The colorful art work is the result of several hours of hard toil by students from both Granite City High Schools who are displaying their talents in a window decorating contest sponsored by the Associated Retailers and Civic Association Inc.

The contest for cash awards has been resumed this Halloween season after being discontinued as a traditional event several years ago, according to Eugene L. Alassi, education consultant for the Granite City School District, who coordinated the projects.

Tempera paint was used by 50 freshmen through senior art students to produce a variety of Halloween scenes, each three feet square.

Paint and brushes were furnished by the youth artists at Downtown Granite City, Inc.

A panel of qualified judges will inspect and evaluate the paintings, starting at 4 p.m. today, to determine the winning entries.

Cash prizes provided by the Associated Retailers group, include: First place, $25; second, $25; third, $15; and fourth, $10, plus four honorable mention awards.

Ribbons will be affixed to the top paintings, Alassi said, enabling the public to easily locate the prize winners on the display.

Serving as judges will be Alassi; Miss Sheila Orbanovich, art instructor at Prather Junior High School; Mrs. Patricia (Tish) Mueller, science teacher at Grigsby Junior High School; Charles Vollman, owner of Vollman Sign Co., Collinsville; and Henry Gabriel, a Granite City architect.

'Witches Watch' set to deter pranksters

To help deter Halloween pranksters from serious acts of vandalism, Granite City ALERT 368, a group associated with the Granite City Civil Defense, will work closely Wednesday evening with local police departments, it was reported today.

The ALERT (Affiliated League of Emergency Radio Teams) group is composed of Citizen Band radio operators who are part of the CD organization.

Members have agreed to patrol and observe specific areas of the community between 7 and 10 p.m. Wednesday in a concentrated effort to prevent vandalism caused by pranksters bent on more serious forms of mischief than the usual trick or treaters, according to Walter Schmidt, an ALERT officer. During the "Witches Watch" project the ALERT members in unmarked cars, equipped with CB radios, will work hand-in-hand with Granite City and Ponton Beach police. They will report incidents involving wanton vandalism to police headquarters, with regular patrolmen then handling any situation from that point, the ALERT spokesman said.

Calls from reporting "witches" will be routed through the civil defense radio network and relayed to police headquarters, Schmidt said.

It is the fourth consecutive year the local ALERT group has organized a "Witches Watch" program in the community, he added.

GC joins cable TV study

Creation of a joint telecommunications commission for the cities of Granite City, Collinsville and Edwardsville was proposed last week by members of the Edwardsville mayor's committee studying cable television.

Granite City aldermen have met with Robert Howe, president of Madison County Cablevision, an Alto-based firm with franchises in the Alto-Wood River area. His proposals are being studied by a council committee.

Howe has said he could establish a system in southern Madison County if Granite City, Edwardsville and Collinsville all agreed to grant him franchises. The mayors of Granite City and Collinsville are to be invited to a Nov. 15 meeting of the Edwardsville committee. The cable plan involves St. Louis stations, the STC public TV station, two Chicago independent stations, a time-and-temperature channel and local access programming.

How to reduce your natural gas heating bills

Here are 12 tips from gas heating experts to help you get more comfort for less money...

1. Proper insulation is one of the best home improvements you can make to conserve gas. When selecting insulation, it pays to know what to look for. The thickness of insulating material does not tell how effective it will be in preventing heat loss. Instead, look for the "R" (resistance) value which is printed on the package or insulation itself. The higher the R-value number, the greater the ability of the insulation to resist heat loss. You can find the R-value you need in various materials and thicknesses.
2. When insulating your home, follow the R-values recommended by Illinois Power Company. Use R-19 insulation beneath the roof or attic floor. Use R-11 insulation in outside walls. Use R-13 insulation over the basement or crawl space.
3. Raise the humidity in your home by using a humidifier or by setting containers of water on warm air registers or radiators. Lower temperatures are more comfortable when humidity is high.
4. If you have a forced warm air heating system, check filters frequently. Clogged, dirty filters prevent free flow of clean air, and increase gas usage. Also, lubricate the fan and motor bearings once a year.
5. If you have a hot water system, oil the bearings of the circulating pump once a year. Also, it may be necessary to drain the expansion tank from time to time.
6. Radiators should be vented from time to time to keep them from becoming air-bound.
7. Have a qualified heating contractor examine your chimney and flue pipe once a year to make certain they are in good condition and free of blockage.
8. Keep fireplace damper closed when the fireplace is not in use.
9. Use storm windows and doors to eliminate drafts and save on gas.
10. Don't block radiators or registers with furniture or drapes.
11. Don't fiddle with thermostat. Most people prefer to maintain an indoor temperature of 70 degrees. Your heating costs will increase by about 3% for every degree above 70 degrees. Also, a furnace will not heat a chilly house any faster if set at 80 degrees than if set at 70 degrees.
12. Install weather stripping around loose-fitting doors and windows.

WASHINGTON — Saudi Arabia is expected to accumulate $50 billion in foreign exchange reserves from oil sales over the next three years and perhaps $100 billion by 1980 — enough to make it the banking center of the world.

This possibility, a by-product of the U.S. energy crisis and increasing U.S. dependence on foreign oil imports, is being weighed seriously in the State Department here.

It should happen, the consequences could be revolutionary.

The Saudi capital city of Riyadh, or perhaps the Red Sea port of Jiddah, could come to occupy the same position in world financial affairs that London did in the 19th Century.

The Saudi unit of currency, the riyal (3.7 riyal equal $1), could become one of the main currencies of the world.

Halloween safety tips given

By RIV TOBIN

Dear Mrs. Tobin: Halloween will soon be upon us. Would you please do a column on safety tips to protect our small "spooks." — Concerned Mother

Dear Concerned: I could do five columns on this subject, but here are some basic suggestions to help make this year's Halloween safer.

Children should not accept food items that are not wrapped.

"Treats" should not be eaten until they have been examined carefully by an adult. Saudis have been known to insert pins, razor blades, more serious energy crisis than the average person realizes.

Rationing of many types of fuel is likely fairly soon. Gasoline prices will rise. Some way will have to be found to get rid of gas-guzzling automobiles and equip the American driving public with smaller cars capable of much better mileage.

A crash program is needed to develop simultaneously all domestic sources of energy — offshore oil, nuclear, thermal, nuclear (hydrogen), thermal and solar energy, plus coal gasification and liquefaction.

The cost to do this is likely to be staggering — perhaps $100 billion or more, so higher taxes to finance it are almost certain.

glass and even poison into food for the children.

Costumes should be fire-resistant and the children should not be permitted to carry candles or other open flame lights.

Children should be taught not to enter anyone's home or to follow a stranger anywhere. Any child under 7 should be accompanied by a parent.

Costumes should be short enough to prevent tripping and masks or other head and face covering should not restrict breathing or vision and should be easily removed.

The children should carry flashlights and reflective tape should be sewn on the front and back of their costumes to make them visible to motorists.

Motorists, in turn, should drive with extra caution on Halloween night. Pirates and witches, dressed in black, are a real hazard.

"Trick-or-treaters" should be warned to cross only at street intersections. In some areas, parents take turns monitoring busy corners.

Sub-teen-agers should be restricted to a certain area within a given perimeter.

A porch or yard light should be a welcome beacon for Halloween pranksters. If you have to be away from your home that night, leave the lights off. This will signal the children that you are not at home and they should seek treats elsewhere.

Play the game. When you open your door, feign surprise and fear. The little ones will shriek with delight. Happy Halloween to you all.

Gov. Walker's on display in Illinois state museum

SPRINGFIELD — It's just sitting there. A big, handsome life portrait of Gov. Dan Walker.

The colorful painting is prominently displayed on the second floor of the Illinois State Museum. It's not part of any particular exhibit. It's just ... well, it's just there.

No doubt thousands of Capital City tourists have stopped to gawk at the Chief Executive since he first arrived at the museum early in July. And perhaps for a good reason. As you look at the portrait it kinda looks back at you. It seems to say, "Hi, I'm Dan Walker. Nice to see you today."

The portrait originally was part of an exhibit works by Illinois artists. It has since been donated to the museum and will become part of the institution's permanent collection.

The painting, slapped on what appears to be plywood, was done by Fred Weiss, a well-known Chicago artist and advertising man. Its value has been pegged at $3,000.

Museum Director Milton D. Thompson poo-pooed any suggestion that the art work's prominent display was politically inspired.

"After all," Thompson said, "He is the number one citizen in this state."

"We plan to keep the painting and we're glad to have it," Chicago art expert Ralph Newman said. Weiss has painted numerous portraits of prominent persons including Marilyn Monroe and Lyndon Johnson.

"Weiss is a very distinguished artist," Newman said.

Apparently Weiss painted the portrait just after the election for a Walker fundraising effort. No one would reveal who donated it to the museum.

Thompson said the museum is always happy to get paintings by Illinois artists no matter what the subject. He said he once tried to get a portrait of former Gov. Richard Ogilvie "but Mrs. Ogilvie knew the value of good art and decided to keep it for herself."

Beginning Dec. 15 and running through Jan. 20, the Museum will host a one-man ex-

Arrow Lodge to be honored Friday

The Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow, will be presented the "E. Urner Goodman" award at a Friday noon luncheon of the North Central Region, Boy Scouts of America, annual business meeting at the Crown Center Hotel, Kansas City, Mo.

The local lodge was one of 12 out of a total of 460 selected to receive the award due to their excellence in camp promotion for the 1973 season.

The Order of the Arrow is a national brotherhood of Scout honor campers.

Accepting the award on behalf of the lodge will be Mike Billrey, lodge chief, and Jeff Talliver, vice-chief, both from Venice.

Nearly 1,000 volunteer and professional leaders of the 55 councils in the North Central Region will participate in the three-day conference.

Representing the Cahokia Mount Council will be E. Ray Grisham of Granite City, council vice-president; Jack Holsinger of Edwardsville, council exploring chairman; W. F. "Mick" Strange of Madison, council camping chairman, and G. H. Sternberg of Granite City, chairman of the Regional Silver Antelope Committee.

Discussion groups on finances, organization and extension camping, exploring activities, public relations and almost every aspect of the Boy Scout program will be held.

The newly-developed Exploring and Cub Scout leader training course material is expected to be released at the meeting.

4 divorce decrees granted

Four Quad-City area couples have obtained divorces in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville. Divorced were:

Meda Catherine Moran (Far-nacia) of Venice from Jimmy Glen Moran of Madison. They were married Oct. 8, 1971, in Madison and separated in April 1973. Mental cruelty was charged. Custody of two children was granted to the mother and the father was ordered to pay $150 per month child support.

Mary Lou Wood from David Lee Wood, both of Granite City. They were married Aug. 1, 1945, at Hartford, and separated in September this year. Mental cruelty was charged.

Paula Jean Pulliam (Brown)

of Granite City from James Daniel Pulliam of Madison. They were married Sept. 1, 1967, in Granite City and separated on April 15, 1972. Desertion was charged. The mother was awarded custody of two children and the father was ordered to pay $60 per month child support for six months, and $30 per week after that time.

Rose Geraldine Carter (Jenkins) from Maynard Carter, both of Venice. They were married Nov. 24, 1960, in Madison and separated April 21, 1971. The husband was ordered to pay $147 attorney fees and court costs. Desertion was charged. Her maiden name, Jenkins, was restored by the court.

Plan 'Learning Festival'

St. Joseph's School, 2116 Edison Ave., has invited the public to its Learning Festival Nov. 10 to Nov. 16 from 8:45 a.m. to 4 p.m. The festival will be held in the school office on the first floor of the school building.

Anyone interested in purchasing educational games and supplies for grade school children as gifts for Christmas or birthdays may wish to attend the festival.

Magnifiers, simple science experiments, dinosaurs, magnets and motors, spelling games, nature collections, history and geography activities, number games, educational handicrafts and many other materials representing all areas of interest to children will be available at prices ranging from 25 cents to $4.95.

The event not only will arouse student interest in learning, but will profit from all sales. The proceeds will be used to purchase new playground equipment.

Mrs. John Norton, chairwoman of the festival, may be reached by calling 876-3944.

GC youth earns commendation

Paddy Jim Baggot, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gerard M. Baggot, 2650 Edison Ave., has been awarded a Letter of Commendation for his high performance in the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test in the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) program.

The Baggot youth is in his senior year at Assumption High School in East St. Louis. He plans to enter St. Louis University next fall to study medicine.

Edward C. Smith, president of NMSC, said, "The high standing of Commended students in the Merit Program competition shows that they have great promise of continued success in college."

"Although commended students advance no further in the Merit Scholarship competition, their attainment in this nationwide program deserves public recognition," the NMSC executive stated.

ON STATE COMMITTEE
Mrs. Roberta Seebach of the institutional research and studies office at SIUE has been named to the employees advisory committee to the State Universities Retirement System. She succeeds Jim Stevenson, former director of purchasing at SIUE.

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN

THE BIG NEWS IS BUTTER!!! And... just in time for your holiday baking. The butter market took a plunge last week and as usual Schermers was first with the new low price. Here's the deal: 69¢ lb. for the first two lbs. you buy accompanied with a $10.00 purchase and 89¢ per lb. for additional lbs. or for butter purchased without the minimum, 89¢ represents a 30¢ per lb. reduction and the 69¢ deal represents a 50¢ reduction. In other words you can save $1.00 on two lbs. of butter purchased on our $10.00 deal. We advise our thrifty customers to stock up now on these prices. Remember, butter can be kept indefinitely in your freezer. Market conditions may react to this sudden drop, so, a word to the wise should be sufficient.

We are also running a wiener and bun sale: 49¢ for the wieners and 29¢ for the buns. Just like old times. We didn't get much response to our United Way appeal last week. If you didn't give yet, come in and talk to us about it. It's never too late.

Mrs. Bridick heads Madison Sr. Citizens

Clarence Green, retiring president of the Madison Senior Citizens Club, gave a resume of their past three years of the club, of which he has served as president prior to swearing in newly-elected officers at the October meeting.

Those installed were Mrs. Dorothy Bridick, president; Mrs. Alice Price, vice-president; and Mrs. Grace Horman and Mrs. Verna VanOver, who will continue to serve as secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Bridick asked Green to assist her and the officers and also praised the members for their help in keeping the club "active and relaxing." She appointed a number of committees to serve throughout the year.

Mrs. Mildred Shifter will remain as director of the Madison Kitchen Band, which is active in playing at city and regional events.

Refreshments were served to 70 members.

500 attend Open House

More than 500 parents and teachers attended an open house program at Mayville School last week to visit the classrooms and view student projects and work.

After classroom tours Principal Jack Mulach introduced Chester Robinette, a graduate of Purdue University, who spoke on the brown recluse spider.

Mulach also introduced the PTA officers and faculty staff members followed by a short explanation of the learning center at the school and use of the machines in the center.

Mrs. Sue Gasparovic, vice-president, was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Sandy Kozyak submitted the secretary and treasurer reports.

The new PTA budget was presented and approved by the members.

Miss Margaret Roberts, gym teacher, requested some of the fathers assist with the construction of school playground equipment.

A lengthy discussion was held on the next fund-raising project, the annual Black Cat barbecue Nov. 9 at the school. Parents who wish to volunteer their services for the event may contact the school at 931-2044.

Opportunity for Quad-Citizens to confer directly with Illinois governor

As four local organizations are saying, Quad-Citizens have a golden opportunity at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 6, to hold government "accountable" for its decisions and services, to gain greater understanding of the issues and challenges confronting state government, and to go "right to the top" in communicating whatever requests or opinions they consider pertinent.

Governor Daniel Walker of Illinois will participate in the "no holds barred" question and answer session. The location will be the cafeteria of new Granite City High School North, State Route 203 and Maryville Road.

The reaction of an aide to the governor to an announcement of the meeting gives insight into what to expect. Noting a "Gov. Walker to speak" headline, he said it could be just as accurately reversed — "Speak to Gov. Walker."

Articles in today's issue report that Venice police have called on the public to aid in curbing burglaries, and that retail stores throughout Illinois will spotlight the shoplifting problem during the week of Nov. 11-17.

The valid points being cited are that thefts endanger all and are a heavy financial burden whose cost ultimately is borne by the public. Hugh E. Muncey, Illinois Retail Merchants Association president, stresses that shoplifting contributes to inflation. He reports yearly losses in Illinois of $800 million due to such thefts, called "America's fastest growing crime."

Public affairs operations cost taxpayers a bundle

WASHINGTON — In 1969, the Defense Department had 4,260 persons around the clock engaged primarily in public affairs to capture public good will.

The weapons ranged from press releases to junkies for civil leaders and members of Congress. The entire public affairs operation cost taxpayers $39,633,000 that year.

Then in February, 1971, the CBS television program "The Selling of the Pentagon." It took a close look at the Pentagon's public relations efforts, and the tone was critical.

Congress that year, already insisting on across-the-board cutbacks in military spending, served in on the public affairs expenditures and ordered reductions.

Today, the Defense Department boasts a trim force of 1,863 military and civilian personnel working in public affairs. The fiscal 1974 budget calls for expenditures totaling roughly $25 million. It is the most spectacular reduction of public personnel and costs by any federal department in recent years.

Reduction in other agencies are dictated partially by the Nixon administration's desire to cut the cost of running the government.

Another factor is a concern by the White House that too many press releases can generate too much confusion and make possible minor corrections in administration policies.

The only current example of a major reduction, and one which may rival the Pentagon's for magnitude, is in the mammoth Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

This bureaucracy of 110,000 employees includes 1,200 engaged in public affairs at an annual cost of $75 million.

There are seven agencies within HEW, plus a score of subagencies, and they each have their public affairs

Fight is expected on ending tax loopholes

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's tax reform proposals are dead for this year but Congress is expected to have a late-session floor fight over plugging loopholes in the minimum tax — a change that could yield $4 billion in new federal income.

Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., a senior member of the House Banking and Currency Committee, is planning a major effort to slash the minimum tax changes to the debt ceiling bill when it comes up, probably in November.

He will be joined in this effort by Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J., John Moss, D-Calif., and Brock Adams, D-Wash., plus Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., who will sponsor a similar effort in the upper chamber.

Reuss' calculations indicate this would yield $3 billion more in personal income taxes and $1 billion more in corporate taxes.

Mr. Nixon's reform plan also contained provisions for replacing the present minimum tax on income coupled with a limitation on artificial accounting losses often set up as tax shelters.

But his changes would raise only an estimated $1 billion in revenue.

First submitted to Congress last April 30, the President's plan has remained only a recommendation because it was never formally introduced as a bill.

Nevertheless, hearings were held by Ways and Means Feb. 7 to May 1. Then it was set aside while the committee took up the trade reform bill at the request of the President.

The committee is now finalizing the new trade legislation and will deal with Senate-passed pension legislation next.

After that it may have some time to return to tax reform temporarily but will also have to pay at least a minimum amount of income taxes.

Problems soon developed, however, centered around a permissible lump sum, $30,000 deduction and an authorization permitting deduction of all federal taxes paid. These two provisions, opponents say, would be considered many persons of considerable means to pay only an effective 4 percent rate on their income.

Reuss' plan is not only to eliminate the two deductions but to convert the present, intended, 10 percent flat rate into a graduated rate ranging from 7 percent to about 35 percent.

Mr. Nixon's tax plan undoubtedly will be amended by Ways and Means but some of the ideas may be incorporated in changed form into the new tax bill that is expected to emerge next year.

But Mr. Nixon, besides recommending a change in the minimum tax, calls for a major simplification in income tax forms for middle- and low-income Americans.

It also proposes a property tax credit for the elderly, a tuition credit for parents of private school students, a federal subsidy for taxable bonds issued by state and local governments, an investment credit for exploratory oil drilling and tougher taxation of the foreign income of U.S. companies.

The President did not recommend revision of capital gains, estate or gift taxes.

But Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., the all-time Ways and Means chairman, still recovering from back surgery at his home in Kenett, Ark., has suggested in the past that all three areas need revision. He has called it a "travesty" for tax shelters to be set up to lower an individual's taxes by converting ordinary income into capital gains.

Unusually low financial assets held more than six months receive preferential treatment on the increase in capital gains. Up to $50,000 they are taxed at half the rate of ordinary income.

FOND MEMORIES OF TOM AND BESSIE:
To the Editor:

I know that many of our old families who have members born during the years of 35 and 40 have been made better, have greater appreciation for art and music, have had their lives enriched by the love and affectionately known but the names of "Mr. Tom" and "Miss Bessie."

There are grandparents among us of our age group whose children were picked up at our homes by Mr. Tom in a car with the back seat taken out to take them to their home.

There, Miss Bessie taught them poems, songs and how to drive, taught them manners and how to play games with one another.

All came from 8:30 five days a week to 12:30, and all for $1.50 a week!

Not a day or an hour, but one day and twenty-five cents a week.

Today, your own grandchildren are paid more to mow the lawn and cut the grass.

The purpose of this is to ask how many of us take even 15 minutes a week to cheer Miss Bessie's spirit, as she must lie in bed at the Colonides with crippling arthritis—fingers that haven't played the piano in years.

How happy she would be to see someone of her youngsters, the children and even grand children.

Make an effort to pay her a visit and remind someone else to do, too. It needn't be a prolonged visit—just enough to let her know the people she loved are here.

Busy? Of course, we are but not too busy to go to the mortuaries to pay respects and to see her. I can't remember who had said "I can't remember who had said."

We may all wish one day that someone will care enough to take time to send us a card or letter, to stop by to see us for a few minutes when we are unable to get out among friends, go to school, walk a block and talk to neighbors.

Your own day will be made the happier when you take the time to drive out to see Miss Bessie.

Life at White House

UPSTAIRS AT THE WHITE HOUSE; by J.B. West, Coward, McCann & Leach, Inc., 381 pages, $8.95.

For 28 years J.B. West was chief usher at the White House and he may know more about the close family life of Presidents Roosevelt through Nixon than any other person outside the families themselves.

His book will please the ladies because much of his life was spent catering to Eleanor Roosevelt, Bess Truman, Mamie Eisenhower, Jacqueline Kennedy and Pat Nixon.

He recalls many anecdotes and he is diplomatic in the extreme in dealing with the first families — although he does note that President Eisenhower almost lost his temper when Heidi, his pet weanimator, left a "souvenir" on the White House rug. Heidi was a small black and white dog brought to bear in devastating reality by author Kawasaki through the eyes of Heidi, a Scottish girl who marries Saburo Tanaka, a member of the managerial staff of a large Japanese corporation. This is a compelling novel of interracial marriage that is more fact than fiction and is happening today.

ALLEN RICE; by Ichiro Kawasaki, Charles E. Tuttle Co.; 182 pages; $5.50. The traditional ways of Imperial Japan and high-powered corporate life of modern industrial Japan have long been in conflict.

In "Allen Rice" these contrasts are brought to bear in devastating reality by author Kawasaki through the eyes of Heidi, a Scottish girl who marries Saburo Tanaka, a member of the managerial staff of a large Japanese corporation. This is a compelling novel of interracial marriage that is more fact than fiction and is happening today.

DRINKING LAW CAN INCREASE PROBLEMS
To the Editor:

News item... Drinking law is being considered. 19-year-olds are allowed to drink beignade wine (alcohol). They may be happy now but what about the future?

News item... United Way in the Tri-Cities area needs $400,000 support from John Q. Public. Among other services funded through the United Way is an alcoholic rehabilitation program.

Quite possibly the 19-year-old teenagers are happy if only because they may appear "grown up" or getting into the act. Big deal. Consumption of alcohol, whether beer or wine or any other form, certainly doesn't constitute being "grown up" or accepted. In reality, it creates problems.

Maybe, too, the tavern owners are pleased because of the business increase and thus they can let the public know how much more taxes they pay for support of the community.

Whether or not the state is happy remains to be seen. Now, maybe; later, only time will tell.

Of course, the state will receive new monies from the checks of alcohol consumption because of the tax revenue on the liquor business.

It is known that our country spends more annually on taking care of the widows, orphans, poor and destitute, those in prisons, jails and asylums, than the liquor revenue can support.

How will the police know if the alcohol content in the blood is from beer, wine, mouthwash or some other alcoholic beverage?

While pondering the news items and the United Way, I will surely have to now try to go to the United all the way, as this question is going to need the financial support it can get.

So, good luck to the United Way, the state, the tavern owners, those affected and afflicted by the drinkers and the new ranks of possible future alcoholics.

Expanded rules govern drivers of school buses

The one million Illinois school children who ride to school in 10,000 public school buses are being protected by an increasing number of regulations intended to assure their safety and well-being.

Laws passed by the General Assembly have added these stipulations to the present requirements for school bus drivers.

A driver must be qualified and licensed by the Secretary of State, must be at least 21 years of age and have at least one year driving experience, and must not be convicted of crimes listed in the bill. (The offenses range from murder to sex crimes to window peeping.)

The mandate also includes a provision making it unlawful to discriminate in hiring bus drivers on the basis of race, color, creed, national ancestry or sex.

Add these requirements to the already accepted standards of possessing a valid driver's license, passing both written and driving tests, no record of conviction for reckless driving, no revocation of license and no unsatisfactory judgment as the result of an accident. Too, the applicant has to have a valid first-aid certificate.

In addition, regulations provide that school bus drivers must be clean, neat and refrain from smoking or drinking alcoholic beverages while transporting pupils.

They are selected for dependability, good habits, unquestionable character and willingness to follow instructions and requirements of the district superintendent and school boards.

"It is the joint responsibility of the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the school district personnel to enforce these regulations," according to a spokesman from the OSPI.

"When the district refers names to our office, we check their license through the

Store beautification Optimist Club topic

Beautification of the downtown Granite City area was the program topic of the weekly meeting of the Granite City Optimist Club at noon Thursday in the YMCA.

Fred Sculenberg, editor of the Paint and Wallpaper Journal, St. Louis, was the speaker. He showed to the group in a slide presentation what can be done to restore and beautify the interiors and exteriors of older buildings.

President Dave Fox reminded the club that members will be needed to help as ushers when Gov. Daniel Walker holds an "accountability session" in the cafeteria of Granite City High School-North on Tuesday, Nov. 6, at 7 p.m.

The governor's visit here will be cosponsored by the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, Tri-City Trades and Labor Council of the AFL-CIO, Granite City Rotary Club and the Optimist Club.

Jack Dempsey reported that the Camelot Auction was a big success and that a final report will be made soon. President Fox announced that Kent Dunn will be the program chairman for the month of November.

Total education school at SIUE is accredited

The School of Education of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been notified that all programs in education have been accredited through November 1977 by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE).

For the first time at SIUE, the accreditation includes six-year specialist's degree programs in counselor education, educational administration and secondary education.

W. Deane Wiley, dean of the School of Education, said, "I am particularly pleased with the granting of accreditation for the educational administration program because it will be helpful to students from Missouri in obtaining certification for positions as elementary and secondary principals and school superintendents."

Missouri will not certify personnel for these positions unless they have degrees from accredited programs. All master's degrees as well as undergraduate education programs at SIUE were reaccredited by NCATE.

Wiley said the purpose of the accreditation procedure is to make sure the programs at SIUE are of the highest caliber.

The institution is visited periodically by evaluation teams from NCATE who make nationwide appraisals of education programs. Following comprehensive studies, an evaluation board either recommends or denies accreditation.

NCATE publishes an annual list of colleges and universities whose programs are accredited. Wiley said recognition by NCATE means the SIUE education programs and faculty are meeting the highest standards of performance in the professional education field.

Accreditation of the total SIUE education program also means better job opportunities for all education graduates, Wiley believes. "Some states

Phyllis Daugherty and Kendell McMillan wed

Niedringhaus United Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding on Friday evening of Miss Phyllis Lyn Daugherty, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Sexton Daugherty, 2641 Iowa St., and Kendell C. McMillan, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl McMillan, 3280 Wabash Ave.

The Rev. Roy Baugh officiated at the 8 o'clock double ring ceremony before an altar adorned with bouquets of fall flowers arranged with urns of greenery. Burning tapers at the altar and marking the white carpeted aisle in candlelight festooned with floral clusters, illuminated the sanctuary.

Soloist Paul Mabry sang "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," "Follow Me," "The Wedding Song" and "Ode to Joy."

Lighting the candles prior to the ceremony were Christine and Steven Carroll, the bride's niece and nephew.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a candlelight delustered satin gown designed with a bodice lavishly appliqued with delicate Chantilly lace motifs at the high neckline and edging the sheer tulle yoke.

Scalloped lace motifs encircled the waistline and accented the long tapered sleeves at the wrists, tightly fitted with covered buttons.

Matching lace bordered the skirt hemline, extending into a long sweeping train.

She wore a court crown of lace and pearls to secure her full length veil of bridal illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, lily of the valley, gardenia and baby breath.

Autumn shades were used for the attendants' dresses created with long fitted sleeves set into fitted bodices, featuring round necklines. A ruffle, edged in whitelace, accented the bodices and cuffs, and a sash defined the waistline.

Maid of honor Miss Mary Ann Neumann was attired in a dark green gown, and the bridesmaids, Misses Brenda Smith, Penny Nichols, Virginia Nichols and Suzanne Smith, chose maroon, gold, brown and orange frocks.

Each girl wore a veil in a color to match her dress secured to a large bow headpiece. Their bouquets were multi-colored fall flowers, including mums, carnations, roses, pom poms and baby breath.

Janie Stone, a niece of the bride, was the flower girl. She was dressed in a dark green frock designed in similar style to the groom's attendants' dress. She carried a white basket of rose petals.

Peter Moore, a cousin of the groom, served as ringbearer. Richard Guinn attended the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Daniel Rothman, William Mitchell, Thomas Dorworth and Paul Harris.

Seating the guests were Larry Smothers, an uncle of the bride and Charles McMillan, the groom's brother.

Guests were received by the newlywed couple at a reception in Wesley Hall at the church immediately following the service. The bride's cousin, Miss Ellen MacClatchey, attended the guest book.

A rehearsal dinner was given at Tempel's Smorgasbord.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. The bride also was graduated from Harding College and belonged to Zeta Phi Zeta Sorority, Chess Club, Student National Education Association Band, and the National Teachers Program campus players. She is a teacher at Frather Junior High School.

Mr. McMillan attended the University of Illinois where he was a member of the Iliini band and graduated from St. Louis College of Pharmacy. A member of Phi Delta Chi Fraternity, he is employed as an apprentice pharmacist by Reese Drug Store Inc.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Daugherty, selected a full length gown in turquoise designed in princess style and made with a stand up collar, an open V-neckline and long full

Mrs. McMillan, mother of the groom, was attired in a brown formal length gown created made along princess lines with a high neckline and long

Cub Pack 107, sponsored by the Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307, held a joint monthly pack meeting and Halloween party at the Venice Recreation Center last week. All decorations in keeping with the event were made by the Cub Scouts of Den One.

Cubmaster Pete Wilkinson opened the meeting with an "apple-bobbing" contest and Webelos of Den One posted the colors.

Athletic awards were presented to Webelos P. J. Wilkinson, Tim Scaturro and Gregg Faith. Cub Scout Ronnie Buechele received a Bear award.

Three new Cub Scouts, Paul Bilbrey, Danny Fleig and Eddie Beck, were introduced and presented with their Bobcat patches. Their mothers received a replica pin of the patch.

Rhonda Wallace becomes Mrs. Donald Whitehead

Miss Rhonda G. Wallace, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wallace, 2412 Dewey Ave., and Hull Technician Fireman Apprentice Donald W. Whitehead, U.S. Navy, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Whitehead, 2731 W. 22nd St., were married on Oct. 14 at Calvary Baptist Church.

The Rev. Alfred Slayter performed the ceremony at one o'clock in the afternoon.

For her wedding, the former Miss Wallace wore a full length bridal gown of white polyester designed with a V-neckline and elbow length sleeves, edged with a self fabric ruffle. Her slightly gathered skirt featured a ruffled flounce at the hemline extending into a chapel length train.

She wore a bouffant shoulder length veil held in place with a lace headpiece and she carried a bouquet of white carnations festooned with long satin streamers.

Maid of honor Miss Barbara Taylor chose a formal length gown in purple created with a sleeveless bodice, round neckline and high rise waist. She wore a pink picture hat and held an arrangement of pink flowers and greenery.

The groom chose Daniel Whitehead, his brother, as best man.

A reception was given in the home of the bride's parents immediately following the service.

The bride will depart next month for Newport, R. I., to join her husband who is stationed there with the U.S. Navy.

Chouteau to buy town hall land

Property for a new Chouteau Township hall and garage was approved by the Chouteau Town Board of Auditors during a special meeting Saturday.

The board agreed to purchase just over six acres of property north of Interstate 270 on the access road behind the Midwest Motel from Carroll Tingley for $2,500 per acre.

They approved the contract

Leo Benjamin Coleman, 80, of Carmi, Ill., a former 50-year resident of Granite City, was found dead in his car near Carmi, Ill., on Friday.

He was born in Fletcher, Mo., and resided at 2403 Iowa St. here before moving to Carmi. He was a World War I Army veteran.

Mr. Coleman was employed as a guard at the Granite City

Army Installation prior to his retirement.

His survivors include a son, Joseph Coleman of Freeport, Calif., a daughter, Mrs. Maurice (Dorothy) Lanpher of Sealia, Mo., and one sister, Mrs. Annie Couch of Festus, Mo.

Levee inspector dismissed

Four trustees of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District voted in a special meeting Thursday to dismiss Richard R. Jackson, a former district timekeeper and more recently listed on the payroll as an inspector, after Jackson's supervisors failed to account for his whereabouts.

He was dismissed without payment of $400 in wages for Jackson for the two-week period ending Oct. 14.

Attending the meeting were Trustees Charles Meyers and Jack Scoville of East St. Louis, and William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice and Russell Robinson of Granite City. Board President Romel Wilson of East St. Louis was absent.

Before the meeting, Robinson queried all supervisory personnel to ask if they could account for all employees listed on the payroll.

Ebersold said none of them could account for Jackson and that William Hatches, a supervisor, said "Jackson is never there."

Meanwhile, St. Clair County State's Attorney Robert Rice said a grand jury investigation into business transactions of the levee district will be resumed at Belleville Nov. 1.

Rice said some of the district trustees and supervisory personnel will be summoned to testify.

Judge favors more contact with police

A call for increased communication between police chiefs and judges was made by Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark in addressing a monthly meeting of the Crime Prevention and Control Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce at the YMCA Friday afternoon.

Chairman Warren Decatur presided.

"We need better team effort; judges don't have complete control. We must work together in cooperation with law enforcement agencies," Judge Clark said.

"We still have a great system for law and order, but we must make it work and we must solve our problems," he added.

"We need more prosecutors. The prosecutor schedules cases. Too many are part-time. We also need more policemen and more courtrooms."

Girls' ideal raised By Billie Jean

By AUDREY GELLIS
When I was growing up, my friends and I all wanted to be exactly like Marilyn Monroe.

Most little girls today would rather be like Billie Jean King.

The differences between Norma Jean and Billie Jean are not simply the differences between an actress and an athlete. Norma Jean was important because of what she looked like; Billie Jean is a celebrity because of what she did.

Norma Jean devoted constant time and energy to embellishing and preserving her beauty. There are rumors Billie Jean plays tennis 24 hours a day.

Norma Jean represented the quality that was most valued in my generation of adolescent girls: sex appeal. Billie Jean is selling skill. Despite the commercialism and the Barnum and Bailey atmosphere of the King-Riggs match, once Billie Jean started playing, the silhouetted startlets hanging around the court couldn't rate a second look.

Norma Jean made money for others; Billie Jean is making a mint for herself. Though Marilyn Monroe was the country's box-office queen for a decade, her estate was reported to be less than one million dollars. But her producers, promoters, parasites, photographers and biographers were and are still making major fortunes. Billie Jean was reported to be a millionaire before the Bobby Riggs match; if she wasn't before, she certainly is now.

Norma Jean was a loser.

Even when she became Marilyn Monroe, she was completely psyched out by the men who ran both her personal and professional lives. Studio czars dealt with her as a high-class piece of flesh, husbands wanted her to be an old-fashioned wife, lovers toyed with her to build up their egos.

Billie Jean is a winner. Even before she beat Bobby Riggs, she had been playing her game her way. Accusations of "unfeminine" didn't deter her from organizing women tennis pros for equal money and prestige. Nor was she worried about playing tennis "like a man" when she made Bobby play her game.

Norman Mailer, we can be sure, isn't even going to write Billie Jean King's biography.

But it is probably the ability to withstand pressure that marks the most crucial difference between the two types of stars. The press reported religiously how Marilyn Monroe would show up late at the set if she showed up at all. She was labeled temperamental, lazy, unreliable, hungover, unprofessional — all of which was nonsense. She was terrified of the moment of truth — that moment when the cameras would roll and she would have to prove yet again that she was a great movie star.

Studio vaults may have been swelling with the profits of yesterday's hits, but Norma Jean knew full well that if she once failed to be America's sexiest woman on camera, she was finished. Ultimately, her fear of failure was so overpowering that she lost by default — she was fired from her last picture for failing to report to work.

The pressure at the Houston Astrodome was not only intense but one-sided: it was all on Billie Jean King.

The match was not a contest between two tennis players but a test of woman's equality. Bobby Riggs wasn't exaggerating when he said a Billie defeat would set the women's movement back 20 years.

Margaret Court had already been picked up by "biologists" like those claiming that too much aggressiveness gives women bald spots.

The guaranteed $50,000 in endorsements would have been bitter comfort to Billie Jean had the hopes and aspirations of millions of women gone down to defeat with her.

However, even before the winning point, the Bobby Riggs defeat was being explained away as the failure of a middle-aged man to stand up to youth.

What Billie Jean actually proved was that a woman can take pressure as well as, if not better than, a man.

This comparison between two women is not to suggest the moral superiority of one over the other. The media creates its stars in terms of public tastes and trends and both have been reflections of what a woman should be in a particular point of time.

(Would Billie Jean have been famous in 1950 or Norma Jean in 1970?)

The beautiful girl-woman, super-sexy, long-suffering and pseudo-dumb, is now as dated as Theda Bara eyes. Today it's in for women to be champions.

Very few of the little girls who saw Billie Jean King play at Houston will grow up to be professional tennis players. But very few will grow up believing that a woman's life is finished at 38.

SHOTGUN, TV TAKEN
Montie Parks of Apt. B, 1415 Niedringhaus Ave., reported Saturday that thieves stole a 20 gauge double-barrel shotgun valued at $200 and a portable black and white television set worth $125. Entry was gained by forcing a locked door.

CHILD TICKETED
A 13-year-old boy was issued a ticket at 9:20 p.m. Friday for not having a driver's license when the car he was driving hit a parked car in front of 3201 Kilmer Drive, belonging to Oliver Kirksey.

THEFT AT HOME
Glennis Misturak, 2844 Madison Ave., reported to police Thursday that while she was taking a nap someone entered her home and took her purse on the dining room table, which contained a Wilson Park ID card, a car title, a department store credit card, and $355 in cash.

APARTMENT LOOTED
Thieves climbed to the roof of an adjoining building, cut the living room screen and entered the apartment of Dennis Lipe, 2501 Washington Ave., between 3:30 p.m. and midnight Friday.

A turntable, solid state speakers and a collection of records and tapes were taken.

DINNERS THIS WEEK
Area meetings this week will include an Illinois State Chamber of Commerce regional dinner at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at Augustine's, with current legislation to be discussed, and a p.m. Wednesday dinner of the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors at Scott Air Force Base.

GARAGE BREAK-IN
Burglars broke into the garage of William Haynes, 2078 Center St., and stole about $300 worth of tools and fishing equipment, it was reported to police Thursday night.
